

Rob Engelking
Candidate for NADKC President

As one of the NADKC's founding members, breeder, judge, and a member of numerous other DKV Clubs throughout Germany, I am committed to the Deutsch Kurzhaar. I believe in the testing and breeding standards that we insist on in this organization, and that the popularity of the Deutsch Kurzhaar. It can only grow and become stronger than in the United States.

I was lucky enough to know and learn from the late Claus Kiefer, former President of DKV, that it takes a group of people to make an organization successful and to make every effort to grow that organization in order to assure it's continued expansion and success. My father loved the DK and believed in the NADKC like it was his family. This is not one persons club but everyone's club.

Our board should strive to achieve a more user-friendly club, a club where the members can feel free to ask questions and have them answered. I have been graced to be surrounded by like-minded individuals that have that same willingness to see this happen.

I have always fought to have the best opportunities for our club in my past terms. This includes the option to work multiple times behind the live duck for our dogs; in Germany dogs only get to do this work once and the score is then transferred to all future tests. To have the NAKP a permanent test for North America. I also made sure our voices were heard in regards to artificial insemination. I worked at the presidents meetings to make sure that this passed for our club and all clubs of the DKV.

Please re-elect me, Rob Engelking, for another term so I may further serve you.
